The adventuring world would soon allow us to experience Kingdoms of Amalur: Reckoning in the long run. Given that the game carries numerous continuities from Blizzcon 2010, we may expect a more coherent and larger storyline.

As the director for cultural heritage at the Albanian Ministry of Culture, Tourism, Youth and Sports, Lafe helped secure funding to preserve the Tombs of Kolonakia, carly c and important part of Albanian heritage.

The job can be as overwhelming as it sounds, but Lafe keeps it under control. "The director is in charge of the policy making in international and national bodies for the protection, restoration, excavation, research, education and promotion of cultural values."

Despite the workload, Lafe loves being at the center of everything related to Albanian heritage. "I grew up in Tirana, so this allowed me to apply for the job," he says. "But the chance to influence my country, especially at a time of huge cultural change and challenges, was a motivation too.

Consequently, it was an ideal job for Albanian heritage that brought him to UC. "I am an Albanian, a Tirana native and a graduate of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens. Over the course of the project, I was able to learn and experience various aspects of scholarship and administration for the protection of cultural values."

For Lafe, the best part of the job has been "the policy making. I am a historian, so I like the challenges."

Cincinnati Ranks High among U.S. Classics Programs

By Peter van Minnen

The American Council on Education released its rankings of U.S. undergraduate programs in Classics on Sept. 10, 2010. The data were collected in 2008 and 2009 and include an absolute ranking of the S-ranking, which is a rank that reflects faculty's and students’ activity in the field of Classics.

Our program is one of the highest-ranked in the country among the top 20 universities in the U.S. We are the only university in the Midwest that has a Classics program ranked in the top 20 by the American Council on Education. This means that our program is ranked in the top 20 in the U.S. for undergraduate Classics programs.

We would like to thank all of our students, alumni, and friends for their support and dedication to the Classics program. We are proud to be a part of this rankings system and we look forward to continuing to support and promote the study of Classics.
