COMMUNICATIONS

From the Editors

Nestor is celebrating! On its 36th birthday (February 20, 1993) Nestor received a wonderful birthday present from the Institute for Aegean Prehistory--a grant that will enable us, at last, to undertake the conversion of our entire 29,000-entry bibliography into a computer data base suitable for rapid and effective search by any word or string of characters. We will make the data available to interested scholars and institutions around the world, customized for PC or Macintosh users, at the cost of distribution, which we expect to be substantially less than hard copy of back issues. The Nestor data base will immensely facilitate bibliographic searches in Aegean prehistory.

We plan to begin work in September with the most recent volumes and work back through 1957 as quickly as possible. The first six to eight annual volumes of Nestor on diskette should be available for distribution by December 1993. The present and future Nestor staff acknowledge, with deep gratitude, the instrumental inspiration and assistance of last year's editor Michael Fotiadis, in putting together the successful plan for the INSTAP data base proposal.

The monthly publication of Nestor will, of course, continue as before. At the end of each year, the current volume will also become available as a data base on diskette. We will keep you posted on our progress, and as always, welcome your suggestions and comments, especially by e-mail.

Recent Symposia and Lectures

A symposium entitled "Egypt and the Minoan World: Recent Finds in the Nile Delta," sponsored by the Department of Museum Education and the Classical Art Collection of The Art Institute of Chicago, was held on February 12-13, 1993 in Chicago. The following papers were read: Manfred Bietak, "The Excavations in Avaris, the Capital of the Hyksos and Piramesse, the Ramses Town"; and "Egypt and the Minoan World in the Light of the Recent Finds in Tell el-Dab'a, Eastern Nile Delta"; Nanno Marinatos, "Kingship in Minoan Culture"; Maria Shaw, "Tumblers, Acrobats, and Bull-Leapers in Aegean and Egyptian Wall Painting"; Ellen Davis, "Evidence of Minoan Colonies in the East"; Emily Teeter, "Egypt and the Mediterranean in the Ramesside Period."

The New York Aegean Bronze Age Colloquium met at the Institute of Fine Arts, One East 78th Street, February 18, 1993. Dr. Aslihan Yener spoke on "Göltepe, an Early Bronze Age Tin Processing Site in Southern Turkey."

The University of Cincinnati's Classics Department and Troy Daily News Publishing Co. brought ancient Troy to meet modern Troy in Troy, Ohio, on Monday February 22, 1993. The event included school and public programs by the UC's Classics Department and presentation of the latest archaeological discoveries at ancient Troy by Manfred Korfmann, Director of the Troy Excavation Project, and C. Brian Rose, Head of the University of Cincinnati's Troy excavation team. Korfmann also lectured at the Smithsonian in Washington, D.C, and the University Museum in Philadelphia, before going to New York City, to participate in the symposium "Troy Revisited: Results of New Archaeological Excavations" on February 25, 1993, co-sponsored by Robert College of Istanbul (Turkey), the American Turkish Society Inc., and the UC's Classics Department.

Future Lectures and Conferences

The New York Aegean Bronze Age Colloquium will meet at the Institute of Fine Arts, One East 78th Street, March 25, 1993 at 6:30pm. Professor Harvey Weiss will speak on "Causality and Change: The Genesis and Collapse of West Asian Civilization in the Late Third Millennium B.C."

At Ball State University, IN, lectures in celebration of the 2,500th anniversary of the birth of democracy in Athens include: Vassos Karagheorghis, "The Hellenic Roots of Cypriote Culture", Thursday, April 1, 1993; Colin Renfrew, "Who Were the Greeks? The Origins of Ethnicity", Friday, April 9, 1993.

A conference on "Greeks and Barbarians: The Classical Origins of Eurocentrism" will be held on Friday, April 23, 1993 at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. The conference is sponsored by the Archaeological Institute of America and Cornell University. Contact: John Coleman or Clark Walz, Department of Classics, Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. 14853. Tel# (607) 255-8335 or (607) 255-3354.

The Second International Conference of the "Groupe de contact interuniversitaire d'études chypriotes" (Belgium) will be held from May 17-19, 1993 in Liège (University of Liège) and Brussels (Free University). The title of the conference is "Cypriote Stone Sculpture." Contact: Frieda Vandenabeele, Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Sectie Kunstgeschiedenis en Archeologie, Pleinlaan 2, 1050 Brussels, Belgium. Tel. 02/641.25.85.

The third international symposium on ancient marble ASMOSIA 1993 (Association for the Study of Marble and Other Stones used in Antiquity) will be held in Athens, Greece, May 17-22, 1993. Contact: Y. Maniatis, Archaeometry Laboratory, EKEFE "Dimokritos", GR-153 10 Ayia Paraskevi Attikis, Greece. Tel# (01) 6513-111, FAX (01) 6519 430.

The Second International Congress on Paleopathology will be held in Valencia, Spain, 7-10 October, 1993. The Archaeological Institute of America will hold its 95th Annual Meeting in Washington, D.C., December 27-30, 1993. Abstracts must be postmarked on or before April 1, 1993. Contact: Program Committee, AIA, 675 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, MA 02215. FAX (617) 353-6550.

The Society for American Archaeology will hold its 59th Annual Meeting in Anaheim, California, April 20-24, 1994. Abstracts are due by September 23, 1993. Contact: 1994 Program Committee, Society for American Archaeology, 900 Second Street, NE, Suite 12, Washington, DC 20002.

Announcement

Stefan Hiller and Fritz Blakolmer would like to announce their project of an "Annotated List of the Bronze Age Wall Paintings of Crete." This will consist of a systematic catalogue of all published Minoan wall paintings. It is also planned to make available the most important information on the material contained in the archaeological literature. The project, recently begun, will include all data referring to the objects, such as descriptions, find circumstances, the history of research, and extensive bibliographical notes. The aim of the project will be an easily usable catalogue of Minoan mural paintings for both specialists and others. Inquiries may be directed to Fritz Blakolmer, Institut für Klassische Archäologie der Universität Wien, Franz Klein-Gasse 1, 1190 Vienna, Austria.

Dissertation in Progress

Nicolle Hirschfeld, graduate student in the Department of Classics, at the University of Texas at Austin, under the direction of Tom Palaima, Cynthia Shelmerdine, and John Bennet is preparing her dissertation: A study of the various potmarking systems on late Mycenaean pottery, concentrating especially on the single painted signs. Substantial attention is also being given to incised marks on Late Bronze Age pottery, including Mycenaean and Cypriot pottery as well as "Canaanite" amphorae.

Erratum

A. Bernard Knapp brings to our attention that the book by Sturt W. Manning, Nestor 19:9 (§920969) was announced prematurely. It will appear this year, as the first volume in the series Monographs in Mediterranean Archaeology.

COMMUNICATIONS

From the Editors

With this issue, we begin using less expensive--but, we trust, equally protective--recyclable plastic envelopes.

We are also looking for some way to make it easier for our foreign subscribers to pay for their subscriptions in U.S. dollars. Any suggestions from readers who might have dealt with similar problems would be most welcome.

Future Lectures and Conferences

The 15th International Symposium of Excavations, Surveys, and Archaeometry in Turkey will be held May 24-28, 1993, at the National Library, Ankara, Turkey. The symposium is sponsored by the Republic of Turkey, the Ministry of Culture, and the General Directorate of Monuments and Museums.

The New York Aegean Bronze Age Colloquium will meet at the Institute of Fine Arts, One East 78th Street, on Thursday April 15, 1993 at 6:30pm. Dr. Sturt Manning will speak on "The Politics of Prestige: Distinction, Inflation, and the Origins of Aegean Civilisation."

Past Conference

A "Minoan Week" was held in Paris from 22-26 February, 1993. The conference was sponsored by the Université de Paris I and the C.N.R.S. and organized by Profs. G. Touchais and R. Treuil. The following papers were delivered: A. Kanta, "A Palatial Centre at Monastiraki (Amariou)" and "Cult Vases of the Sanctuary of Hermes and Aphrodite at Kato Symi (Viannou)"; J.A. McGillivray, "L'ancien palais de Knossos" and "Fouilles stratigraphiques à Palaikastro 1986-1991"; E. Karantzali, "La présence minoenne à Karpathos."

Future Lectures and Conferences

The New York Aegean Bronze Age Colloquium will meet at the Institute of Fine Arts, One East 78th Street, on Thursday, May 6, 1993 at 6:30pm. Prof. Elizabeth Barber will speak on "Women's Customs and Costumes of Minoan Crete and 'Old Europe': Connections, Survivals, and Interpretations."

The University Museum of the University of Pennsylvania will host the 2nd seminar in their series on "Cultural Interconnections in the Ancient Near East" which will focus on the re-evaluation of the archaeological and textual sources relating to the Sea Peoples. The seminar will be held on Wednesday afternoons from January 12 to April 27, 1994 at the University Museum, University of Pennsylvania. Contact: Linda Bregstein, Near Eastern Section, The University Museum, 33rd and Spruce Sts., Philadelphia, PA 19104.

Awards

The following projects focusing on the prehistory of the Aegean and the Near East were awarded funds from the National Endowment for the Humanities: Guillermo Algaze, "Syro-Anatolian State Formation: Excavation at Titrish Hoyuk." Three years of excavation and analysis of the 3rd millennium B.C. site of Titrish Hoyuk in Turkey to study the formation of early states and cities in Syro-Anatolia; Aslihan K. Yener, "The Archaeological Investigation of Tin Production: Prehistoric Metallurgy in South Central Turkey." Three years of excavation and analysis at Göltepe, Turkey, and the nearby tin mine at Kastel to study the nature of metallurgy and exchange systems at this 4th to 2nd millennium B.C. site; Karen D. Vitelli, "Publication of the Results of the Franchthi Cave Excavations." Publication of studies on the discoveries from the later Palaeolithic through Neolithic site at Franchthi Cave, Greece; Glenn M. Schwartz, "Excavations at Umm el-Marra, a Bronze Age Urban Center of Western Syria." Three years of excavation and study at the Early through Late Bronze Age site of Umm el-Marra, in western Syria, c. 2500-1500 B.C. Urban life and relations between Syrian cities and Mesopotamia will be explored; Donald R. Keller, "Southern Euboea Exploration Project: Reconnaissance Survey." Two months of reconnaissance survey in southern Euboea, an island off Attica, Greece, which has already yielded 200 previously unknown sites and is expected to add to the reconstruction of Greek history; James W. Flanagan, "Tell Nimrin Project." Excavations of a Middle Bronze, Late Bronze and Iron Age fortified tell on the east bank of the Jordan River (c. 2000 to 590 B.C.) to study ecological factors in those periods; Richard L. Zettler, "Excavations at Tell es-Sweyhat: Urban Form in Late Third Millennium B.C. Syria." A year of excavation and analysis at the late third millennium B.C. settlement at Tell es-Sweyhat, Syria, to study the nature of urbanism in the upper Euphrates river valley; Geraldine C. Gesell, "The Kavousi Project." A three-year study of the excavations of the Late Bronze and early Iron Age sites of Vronda and Kastro, near Kavousi, Crete; Karl M. Petruso, "Archaeological Research in Southern Albania: The Sarandë Project, 1993." A one-year project including excavation, survey, and analysis focusing on the Stone Age culture in southern Albania; George F. Bass, "A Survey for Ancient Shipwrecks in the Black Sea, Mediterranean Sea and Persian Gulf." A multinational underwater survey of ancient shipwrecks in the western Black Sea, the eastern Mediterranean and the Persian Gulf to provide a new framework for future Institute of Nautical Archaeology projects; Jonathan M. Kenoyer, "The Harappa Archaeological Research Project: Investigations at an Urban Center of the Indus Valley Civilization." A three-year excavation at the early Indus Valley site of Harappa, Pakistan, to investigate the history of the settlement from about 3300 B.C. to the present, including the issue of the growth and decline of urbanism.

From the Editors

John Cherry and Jack Davis are planning to assemble a revised edition of the International Directory of Aegean Prehistorians in the Fall and Winter 1993. They plan to conduct a survey of Aegean prehistorians in an attempt to study trends in the job market and opportunities for employment. Please send enquiries to Jack Davis, Department of Classics, University of Cincinnati, Mail Location 226, Cincinnati, Ohio 45221.

Until that revised directory is available, Nestor is pleased to provide, in this issue, the addresses of our individual subscribers.

The Nestor office closes for the summer with this issue. We will resume publication in September 1993. The editors wish to all our readers a good summer.

Mycenaean Gold Looted from Aidonia?

As Nestor goes "to press," the Greek government has filed suit to recover a collection of Mycenaean gold jewelry and sealstones currently on exhibit in the Michael Ward Gallery in New York City, and offered for sale as a group for $ 1.5 million. The Greek government claims that the material was looted in the 1970's from Mycenaean tombs at Aidonia, near Nemea.

When an article on the Ward Gallery exhibition appeared in the New York Times in April ($930413), Ricardo Elia, an archaeologist at Boston University, wrote to the Greek Consul General in New York, Ambassador Stratos Doukas, pointing out that the objects must have been illegally exported from Greece. Ambassador Doukas responded by going to the gallery and obtaining copies of the catalogue ($930366) which he sent to the authorities in Greece.

Independently, and in response to the same New York Times article, Prof. James Wright of Bryn Mawr College wrote to Katerina Rhomiopoulou, the Greek Director of Antiquities, with similar comments and, further suggesting Aidonia as a likely source of the material. Many of the closest parallels for the Ward collection are from the rescue excavations conducted by the Greek Archaeological Service in the late '70s at Aidonia, after it was discovered that tombs there had been severely looted.

Our bibliography for this issue includes several articles from Greek and U.S. newspapers and John Betts' catalogue of the dealer's exhibit, so that Nestor readers may follow this important case.

Past Colloquia

The Netherlands Institute at Athens organized a colloquium held on Saturday May 15, 1993, entitled "Homeric Questions. Recent Research in the Netherlands, New Discoveries in Crete." The colloquium was sponsored by the Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research. The proceedings of the colloquium will be published.

An international colloquium entitled "The Archaeology of Music in the Aegean and Anatolia" was held in Istanbul, Turkey, 12-16 April, 1993, at Mimar Sinan University. Papers of interest to Nestor's readers included: Subhi Anwar Rashid, "Die Quellen der Musikkultur Mesopotamiens und ihr Einfluss auf Anatolien"; Jesus Gil-Fuensanta, "The Music in the Middle Eastern Forming-Cities Period--A Transmission of Ideas?"; Fathi Saleh and Mahmoud Effat, "On the Discovery of the Ancient Egyptian Musical Scale"; Bo Lawergren, "Comparative Analysis of Lyres and Harps in the Near East and the Eastern Mediterranean, ca. 2000-400 B.C."; Ufuk Esin, "Darstellungen von Musikanten auf den Orthostatenreliefs von Alacahüyük"; Belkıs Dinçol, "Die hethitischen Musikinstrumente nach den Boğazköy-Texten"; Annie Caubet, "Recherche sur l'archéologie musicale dans les provinces syriennes de l'empire hittite (Ougarit, Emar)"; Stefano di Martino, "Songs and Singing in the Hittite Literary Evidence"; Enrico Badali, "Aspekte musikalischer Vorstellungen bei den Hethitern"; Theo J.H. Krispijn, "Musik in Keilschrift"; Aslı Ozyar, "Musicians on Late Hittite Reliefs"; Constanze Schmidt-Colinet, "Musikanten- und Sänger-darstellungen auf neuassyrischen Reliefs." The colloquium was sponsored by the Mimar Sinar University (Istanbul), The British Council (Istanbul), Deutsches Archäologisches Institut (Abt. Istanbul), Institut Français d'Etudes Anatoliennes (Istanbul), Istituto di Cultura Italiana (Istanbul), Nederlands Instituut voor het Nabije Oosten (Istanbul), Österreichisches Kulturinstitut (Istanbul), and the Study Group on Music Archaeology of ICTM (Hannover).

A workshop on Pre-Pottery Neolithic Chipped Stone Industries was held in Berlin, Germany, March 29-April 2, 1993. The event was organized by the Seminar für Vorderasiatische Altertumskunde, Free University of Berlin, Bitterstrasse 8-12, 1000 Berlin 33 (Dahlem), Germany.

Future Conferences

The first International Conference on Underwater Archaeology in Germany will be held in Nürnberg, Germany, 18-20 June, 1993 at Erlangen University. The conference is organized by the Institut für Klassische Archäologie of Friedrich-Alexander-Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg and the Deutschen Gesellschaft zur Förderung der Unterwasserarchäologie.

The Archaeological and Anthropological Society of Victoria, Australia will host a symposium on Archaeological Dating, July 3-4, 1993, at the International House, University of Melbourne, Australia. The symposium will address the complexities of recent developments in the sphere of archaeological dating methodology. Contact: The Secretary, AASV, P.O. Box 328C, Melbourne, Victoria 3001, Australia. FAX # (03) 347 6684.

Announcements

THE ARGOS PROJECT: The ARGOS Project (ARchaeological Greek On-line System) proposes to create the most comprehensive bibliography on ancient Mediterranean civilizations and their cultural heritage, through a computerized union catalogue of the archaeological libraries of fifteen institutions, foreign and Greek, in Athens. Their joint holdings, amounting to 500,000 volumes covering the full range of Hellenic studies of all periods, including language, literature and thought, archaeology and history of art, ancient, medieval and modern history, topography, ethnology and folklore, are the most important in this field and are of world interest. Already three of the largest libraries are on-line together, and several others have acquired the necessary hardware. Readers in each library will, for the first time, have direct computer access to the entire database, using multilingual menus and a detailed subject thesaurus in Greek, English, French, German, and Italian, to learn of bibliography and to locate the library in which it is held. Five major phases of the project are envisaged. Participating institutions: American School of Classical Studies at Athens, Athens Archaeological Society, Australian Archaeological Institute, Austrian Archaeological Institute, British School at Athens, Canadian Archaeological Institute, Center for Byzantine Studies, Center for Greek and Roman Antiquity, Danish Institute in Athens, Dutch Institute in Athens, Finnish Institute in Athens, French School at Athens, German Archaeological Institute, Institute for Modern Greek Studies, Italian School of Archaeology at Athens, Norwegian Institute at Athens, Swedish Institute at Athens. For more information contact: Professor Robin Hägg, Swedish Institute at Athens, Mitseon 9, GR-11742 Athens, Greece. Tel# (+30 1) 923 2102, FAX# (+30 1) 922 0925.

Professor Mehmet Özdoğan informs the editors that the Proceedings of the 1992 symposium on the "Neolithic of Western Anatolia and Balkans" will appear in the 1993 issue of Anatolica, which will be available by December 1993.

* * * *

In Nestor 18:2 we listed the book Chronologies in Old World Archaeology (third edition), edited by Robert W. Ehrich (§910056), as being published in 1990. In Nestor 18:5 we revised that with the news that the publication had been delayed until the fall of 1992. The book did actually appear in 1992, so, in this issue, we list the chapters that are of interest to Nestor's readers.

Errata

The book Lost Languages from the Mediterranean has been listed twice (§880730, §920275). The correct year of publication is 1989. Similarly, the book Thracians and Mycenaean (§880728) had been erroneously listed as published in 1988. The correct year of publication is also 1989. The editors apologize to the authors of the books and to our readers.

COMMUNICATIONS

From the Editors

With this issue, Nestor resumes publication after the summer break. Alexandra (Ada) Kalogirou returns as senior assistant editor, joined by Robert Chavez. Steve Krebs and Olga Kalentzidou have begun the process of converting all back issues of Nestor to a searchable database, supported by a grant from the Institute for Aegean Prehistory. We hope to have the first diskettes available for purchase by late December 1993.

In response to Mycenaean Gold Looted from Aidonia? (Nestor 20:5), the editor received the following letter:

August 9, 1993

Dear [editor]:

Regarding our group of Mycenaean gold jewelry, I was sorry to read in your communications #2576 of May 1993 that "many of the closest parallels for the Ward collection are from the rescue excavations conducted by the Greek Archaeological Service in the late '70's at Aidonia...". This is not true. The closest parallels are those mentioned in our catalogue.

Although it is very unfortunate for scholarship that the specific site or sites of the origin of our pieces is unknown, it would be even more unfortunate to create a false provenance for them, e.g. Aidonia. Your statement can only serve to perpetuate the myth of this false provenance. I urge you to be more critical in the future.

Yours sincerely,

The Program in Aegean Scripts and Prehistory, Department of Classics, University of Texas at Austin announces a conference on "Kingship and the Organization of Power in Greek Society" to be held December 6-7, 1993. The aim of this conference is to investigate aspects of the organization and control of power within Greek society from the Mycenaean period into the Hellenistic period. It is being organized around the visit to PASP of Pierre Carlier, Université de Nancy, one of the leading authorities on the historical development of Greek kingship. Among the papers to be presented, the following are of interest to Nestor's readers: Pierre Carlier, "Second Thoughts on Mycenaean Kingship"; Sara Kimball, "Hittite Kings and Queens"; Robert Stieglitz, "The Ideology of Divine Kingship at Ugarit"; Tom Palaima, "The Origin and Ideology of Mycenaean Kingship"; Kevin Cauley, "The Royal Symbolism of the Scepter: Mycenaean, Hittite, Hebraic". Contact: Thomas G. Palaima or Susan Lupack at PASP, Classics, WAG 123, UT Austin, Austin, TX 78712-1181. Tel. 512 471-8837, FAX 512 471-4111, e-mail: AJAI403@UTXVM.cc.UTEXAS.EDU

CALL FOR PAPERS: The Materials Research Society and the Academia Mexicana de Materiales announce a Spring Meeting in Cancùn, Mexico, May 16-20, 1994. The symposium entitled "Materials Issues in Art and Archaeology IV, Cancùn 1994" will provide a multidisciplinary forum on scientific and technological issues in art, archaeology, and conservation. Of particular interest will be papers which explore the interface and overlap between traditional materials science, the history of technology, and the archaeological and conservation sciences. Special but not exclusive attention will be given to common concerns in North America-Mexico, Canada and the United States. The symposium is co-sponsored by the National Council for Science and Technology, Government of Mexico; The Getty Conservation Institute; The Conservation Analytical Laboratory of the Smithsonian Institution and the Materials Research Society. Abstracts should be typed on the standard MRS abstract form and sent by November 1, 1993 to: Mr. James R. Druzik, The Getty Conservation Institute, 4503 Glencoe Avenue, Marina del Rey, California 90292-7913, U.S.A. Tel. (310) 822-2299, FAX (310) 821-9409.

An international conference entitled "Science and Archaeology: A Multidisciplinary Approach to Studying the Past" will be held at Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts, October 14-16, 1994. The conference is sponsored by the Society for Archaeological Sciences and focuses on the need for increased communication and integration of research efforts by humanists, archaeologists, archaeometrists, and physical scientists in their reconstruction of past societies. Papers will be accepted on the following topics: 1) recent, original research that emphasizes a multidisciplinary approach, 2) case studies of successful interdisciplinary research efforts, 3) practical aspects of doing archaeological science (e.g., research design, data interpretation), 4) theoretical and paradigmatic constraints in doing archaeological science; 5) education and training available/necessary for conducting archaeological research, and 6) resources and funding for archaeological science. The deadline for submission of abstracts is October 31, 1993. Contact: Robert H. Tykot, Department of Anthropology, Harvard University, Cambridge, MA 02138. Tel.# 617-496-8991, FAX# 617-495-8925, e-mail: tykot@husc4.harvard.edu or Geoffrey D. Purcell, Department of Anthropology, the University at Albany, SUNY, Albany, NY 12222. Past Lectures and Conferences

The New York Aegean Bronze Age Colloquium met at the Institute of Fine Arts, One East 78th Street, on Wednesday, September 15, 1993. Dr. Søren Dietz spoke on "Chronology and the Origins of Mycenaean Civilization - Some Recent Ideas".

At the 13th International Congress of Anthropological and Ethnological Sciences held in Mexico City, July 29-August 5, 1993, the following papers were presented in a session on Administration in Ancient Societies organized by Enrica Fiandra and Piera Ferioli: Denise Schmandt-Besserat, "Administration in Uruk, Mesopotamia in the Fourth Millennium B.C."; Enrica Fiandra, "The Continuance of More Ancient Bureaucratic-Administrative Criteria in the Age of Writing"; Tom Palaima, "Sealings as Links in an Administrative Chain"; Stuart Smith, "On Egyptian-Nubian Administration"; J.-P. Olivier, "KH 115 = KN 115".

A colloquium entitled "Homeric Questions. Recent Research in the Netherlands, New Discoveries in Crete" was held at the Goethe Institute in Athens, Greece, on Saturday May 15, 1993. The colloquium was sponsored by the Netherlands Institute at Athens, and the Netherlands Organization for Scientific Research. The proceedings of the colloquium will be published.

A national conference entitled "The Future of our Past '93" was organized in Budapest, Hungary, May 13-14, 1993, by the Hungarian National Museum. The papers presented at the conference focused on the application of computers and information technology in archaeology and other fields of museum research.

The third workshop on "Trade and Production in Premonetary Greece" was held at the Swedish Institute in Athens on April 3-4, 1993. The proceedings of the workshop will be published in the SIMA pocket series. A fourth workshop concentrating on aspects of production is scheduled for April 1994.

Announcements

Research applications to the INSTITUTE FOR AEGEAN PREHISTORY (INSTAP) for 1994 funding should be submitted no later than December 1, 1993. INSTAP does not accept faxed applications or letters which promise applications to follow. Projects relevant to the history of the Aegean world from the Paleolithic to the first Olympiad are eligible for funding, with some preference given to proposals for the publication of, or study of material from previously unpublished or partially published but no longer active excavations. Projects connected with Cyprus, Italy or the Near East must have a direct relationship to the Aegean Bronze Age in order to be considered for funding. The INSTAP Research Review Committee will consider applications during December and January; awards will be announced by late February 1994. The required application form may be requested from: Mrs. Adelaide L. Lewis, Director of Grant Programs, Institute for Aegean Prehistory, c/o the Millburn Corporation, 1270 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10020-1795.

The Archaeology Laboratory at the Far Eastern University in Vladivostok, Russia, is interested in archaeological collaboration encompassing the organization of joint expeditions, publishing, and the exchange of specialists. Ongoing work by the University scientists ranges from the Neolithic to the early Middle Ages. Contact: Aleksandr A. The Journal of European Archaeology is the publication organ of the European Association of Archaeologists. The first volume (Spring 1993) has already appeared. This new journal seeks to promote open debate amongst archaeologists committed to a new idea of Europe in which there is more communication across national frontiers and more interest in interpretation. All periods are covered; papers, review articles, interviews, and short "debate" pieces are all sought. Subscription to the journal is included within the membership fees of the European Association of Archaeologists. Contact: European Association of Archaeologists, Central Office of Historic Monuments and Sites, Dronningens gt. 13, Postboks 8196 Dep, N-0034 Oslo 1, Norway.

On February 25, 1993, Robert College of Istanbul and the University of Cincinnati recently co-sponsored Troy Revisited, a major symposium held in New York which dealt with new finds from the Bronze Age and Roman periods of the Homeric city. World wide interest in the discoveries was emphasized by the media coverage which included pieces in the Los Angeles Times, the New York Times, Newsweek, and on the Voice of America. A video cassette has been produced to make available the presentations of Talat S. Halman, Getzel Cohen, Stella Miller-Collett, Brian Rose, Hans-Gunter Jansen, and Manfred Korfmann. In addition to their complete papers, all of the associated color illustrations were recorded. Also included is a thirty minute walking tour conducted by Brian Rose around Troy to facilitate visualization of the site as it now stands. The four hour video on two cassettes can be reserved for a thirty five dollar tax deductible donation to the Institute for Mediterranean Studies, 7086 East Aracoma Drive, Cincinnati, Ohio 45237. Requests for foreign mailings and for PAL and SECAM versions will be honored for an additional charge.

The University of Cincinnati's Board of Trustees has appointed Jack L. Davis to the University's Carl W. Blegen Chair in Greek Archaeology. A $1.2 million endowment donated by individuals, corporations and foundations, including a $400,000 grant from the Charles Phelps Taft Memorial Fund, supports the Chair (University of Cincinnati News, June 23, 1993).

News Items

During the past summer at Kommos in Crete, two Bronze Age stone anchors were discovered within the Minoan civic buildings. The anchors are of special interest since they are of the composite or multiple-hole type, in this case, with one large hole for the anchor rope and two holes toward the bottom part of the anchor for the insertion of sharpened sticks that, like flukes, would catch in the sea bottom. The larger anchor of the two is 0.74 m high, 0.60 m. wide (at the bottom) and 0.15 m. thick; it weighs 75 kg. This is the first time that anchors of this type have been reported from the Aegean, where the single-hole type prevails, although the three-hole type is known from the Levant, especially from Cyprus. The context of the limestone anchors, reused as bases for wooden supports, is Late Minoan I to Late Minoan IIIA2. Along with them were local Minoan, Canaanite, Cypriot and Egyptian sherds. (Joseph and Maria Shaw, University of Toronto, Canada)

Excavation this past summer in Troy by the University of Cincinnati and the University of Tubingen (Germany) revealed a military ditch of the Troy VI period, located about 400 meters S of the citadel. According to Manfred Korfmann, University of Tubingen archaeologist and head of the overall Troy excavation project, and C. Brian Rose, University of Cincinnati archaeologist and director of UC's Troy excavation team, the carefully constructed, rockcut trench must have served as the first line of defense and protection along the southern edge of the lower portion of the city. A stone wall may have stood along the trench's N side, but its stones were removed and reused, they said (University of Cincinnati News, August 31, 1993).

COMMUNICATIONS

From the Editors

As we try to balance our books by reminding "delinquent" subscribers of the need to pay up or be dropped from our lists, we are hearing again of the very real problem our foreign subscribers have in making small payments in U.S. dollars. We are very sympathetic and continue to look for ways around this problem. We tried, for example, to set up a VISA account that would allow you to charge subscriptions--but the cost to us at present is prohibitive. We are still working on possibilities and are open to suggestions. Some of you have found it easiest to pay for several years in advance. We are happy to accept that route. If that is not an option for you but you want to continue your subscription please let us know and we will make such arrangements as we can on an individual basis until we find a long term solution to this problem.

Future Lectures and Conferences

An International Symposium entitled "Trade, Power and Cultural Exchange: Hyksos Egypt and the Eastern Mediterranean World 1800-1500 B.C." will be held on Wednesday, November 3, 1993 at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, at the Uris Center Auditorium.

The New York Aegean Bronze Age Colloquium will meet at the Institute of Fine Arts, One East 78th Street, on Tuesday, November 16, 1993 at 7:45pm. Dr. Pierre Carlier will speak on "Private and Palace Interests in the Mycenaean Economy."

A panel on Feminist Approaches to Classical Art and Archaeology will take place at the Annual AIA/APA Meetings in Washington, D.C. on December 29, 1993 at 11:00 am in the Rockville Room of the Sheraton Washington Hotel. The panel is co-chaired by Ann O. Koloski-Ostrow (Brandeis University) and Claire L. Lyons (Getty Center for the History of Art and the Humanities). The panel is sponsored by the Women's Classical Caucus (a group affiliated with the American Philological Association).

The International Conference on "Tree Rings, Environment and Humanity: Relationships and Processes" will be held 17-21 May, 1994 at the Hotel Park Tucson, Tucson, Arizona, USA. The 1994 conference will offer an opportunity for individuals interested in tree-ring research to understand environmental and cultural processes. Students and young scientists are especially encouraged to participate. Contact: International Tree-Ring Conference, Laboratory of Tree-Ring Research, Building 58, University of Arizona, Tucson, Arizona 85721, USA. Tel# (602) 621-2191, FAX# (602) 621-8229.

Timothy E. Gregory, a member of the AIA Committee on Professional Responsibilities, is developing a conference on preservation and development in an archaeological context. An important issue to be addressed will be the role of foreign archaeologists in their host countries. For ideas, suggestions, and questions contact: Timothy E. Gregory, Department of History, Ohio State University, Columbus, OH 43210, USA. FAX# (614) 292-2282, e-mail: tegregor@magnus.acs.ohio-state.edu

Past Conferences

The First International Conference of Elateia (Lokris) entitled "Archaeology-Cultural Tradition-Economic and Social Development of Western Lokris" was held in Elateia, Greece, 25-27 June 1993. The conference was organized under the aegis of the Ministry of Culture, the Department of Sterea Ellada, and the Nomarchy of Phthiotis. Among the papers presented, two are of interest to Nestor's readers: Fanouria Dakoronia, "Archaeological Finds of the Late Bronze Age--Early Iron Age in Phokis and the Kifissos Valley" (in Greek); Sofia Dimaki, "Prehistoric Sites in Lokris" (in Greek).

The 27th national session for reports concerning the results of archaeological research in Romania for the year 1992 was organized in Constanța, Romania, May 13-16, 1993. The conference was sponsored by the National Commission of Archaeology, the Ministry of Culture, the Romanian Academy, and the Ministry of Education. The following papers of interest to Nestor's readers were presented (titles translated into English by Steve Krebs): Alexandru Păunescu and Emilian Alexandrescu, "Malu Roșu, County Giurgiu: The Settlement from the Upper Palaeolithic (Aurignacian) Period"; Aurora Apostu, "The Palaeolithic in the Carpathian Curve - Surveys"; Ilie Borzic, "The Upper Palaeolithic Settlement at Climăuți II, Șoldănești Department, the Republic of Moldova"; Florin Drașoveanu and Mircea Mare, "The Archaeological Site at Foeni, County Timiș (Neolithic Complexes of the Criș and Petrești Culture); Georgeta el Susi, "Analysis of Faunal Remains form Foeni, Timiș County"; Gheorghe Lazarovici and Zoia Maxim, "The Archaeological Site Gura Baciului, Cluj County"; Marin Nica and Simona Lazăr, "The Neolithic Settlement at Cîrcea, the Viaduct Sector, Dolj County"; Radian Andreescu and Emilian Alexandrescu, "Neolithic Traces Belonging to the Dudești Culture Discovered at Brănești-Vadu Anei, Ilfov Agricultural Sector"; Silvia Iacobescu, "The Criș Settlement at Leontinești, 'Podiș' Point, Bacău County"; Eugenia Popușoi, "The Starčevo-Criș Settlement at Trestiana, Vaslui County - Considerations Regarding Anthropomorphic and Zoomorphic Art"; Valentin Dergaciov and Olga Larina, "The Neolithic Settlement at Sacarauca, Sîngerei Department, the Republic of Moldova (Criș Culture)"; Done Șerbănescu, "The Neolithic Necropolis (Gumelnița Culture) at Căscioarele, 'D'aia parte' Point, Călărași County".

Announcements

The American Research Institute in Turkey offers Doctoral and Post-doctoral fellowships for research in Turkey for 1994-1995. ARIT fellowships cover all fields in the humanities and the social sciences. Fellowships are given for up to 12 months but shorter terms are favored. Applications must be submitted to ARIT before November 15, 1993. The committee will notify applicants by late January 1994. Contact: American Research Institute in Turkey, c/o University Museum, 33rd and Spruce Streets, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6324. tel#(215) 898-3474, FAX#(215) 898-0657, e-mail: leinwand@vax.museum.upenn.edu

The Turkish Ministry of Culture, General Directorate for Monuments and Museums has requested that, beginning this year, all foreign countries establish through their appropriate learned institution a mechanism for conducting an initial review of applications for excavations and area survey. Any U.S. scholar planning to submit a proposal for work in Turkey should contact G. Kenneth Sams, President of ARIT before November 30, 1993. Tel# (919) 962-7191, FAX# (919) 962-4034, e-mail: gksams@uncmvs.oit.unc.edu

Announcement

The AIA Monographs and Publications Committee welcomes proposals for the AIA Monographs, New Series. Archaeologists with manuscripts comprising the final report of excavations and/or surveys, catalogues raisonnés, or substantive work in the field are encouraged to submit. For consideration by the Committee the author (or editor) should initially submit a one-page abstract of the proposed monograph along with a table of contents and a list of figures, tables, and plates. The Monographs Committee will review these materials and decide if the study is appropriate to the publication program of the Archaeological Institute of America. If the Committee indicates an interest in the submission, two copies of the complete manuscript will be required for review. All proposals and requests for further information should be sent to the Monographs Committee, Archaeological Institute of America, 675 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts 02215; tel. (617) 353-9361; FAX (617) 353-6550. The AIA Monographs, New Series will commence with the publication of The Entrance to the Athenian Acropolis Before Mnesicles, by Harrison Eiteljorg, II, the result of his excavation in 1975 of the pre-Mnesiclean entrance to the Acropolis and of further studies of the area in 1987 and 1989.

Past Lectures and Conferences

At the 92nd Annual Meeting of the American Anthropological Association, which was held in Washington, D.C. November 17-21, 1993, the following papers of interest to Nestor's readers were read: David O'Connor, "Monumental Architecture and Social Complexity in Ancient Egypt"; Steven B. Mertens, "Recent Research Concerning the Paleolithic in Romania"; Robert C. Henrickson, "Reassessing the Use of the Potter's Wheel in the Ancient Near East"; Michael K. Future Conferences

The 15th annual Tufts University Colloquium on Sardinian archaeology will be held at Tufts in Medford Massachusetts, on Friday, December 3, 1993. The conference is entitled "Variety and Diversity in the Archaeology of Sardinia". For more information, contact: Miriam S. Balmuth, Tufts University, tel. (617) 627-3216, FAX (617) 627-3610, e-mail: mbalmuth@pearl.tufts.edu

An International Conference on "Computer Applications and Quantitative Methods in Archaeology-CAA94" will be held March 24-27, 1994, at Glasgow University, Glasgow, Scotland. Papers, demonstrations, and posters are invited on all aspects of computer use and quantitative methods in all areas of archaeology. Initial submissions, including names of authors, provisional title and a brief description of topic, institution and address, telephone and fax numbers and e-mail address, should be sent to the organizer by December 3, 1993. Those wishing to provide demonstrations should also provide an indication of their hardware and software requirements. All submissions will be acknowledged by January 1, 1994, and final abstracts must be received by February 11, 1994. The official language of the conference is English. Contact: Dr. Jeremy Huggett, Department of Archaeology, Glasgow University, Glasgow, Scotland; tel. +44 (0) 41 339-8855, ext. 5960 or 4916, FAX +44 (0) 41 307-8044, e-mail: jhuggett@dish.gla.ac.uk

An international conference in honor of M.S.F. Hood will be held at Rewley House, Wellington Square, Oxford, U.K., on 15-17 April 1994. The title of the conference is "Crete and the Aegean World in the Bronze Age: Invasions, Migrations and Influences." The theme of this weekend conference is deliberately wide to reflect the life-long interests of the honorand, M.S.F. Hood. At the time of the conference the Ashmolean Museum will be holding an exhibition on Sir Arthur Evans. Conference organizers: Dr. Doniert Evely, Mrs. Helen Hughes-Brock, and Dr. Nicoletta Momigliano, Institute of Archaeology, 36 Beaumont Street, Oxford OX1 2PG, U.K. For bookings and domestic arrangements contact the Archaeology Course Secretary at OUDCE, 1 Wellington Square, Oxford OX1 2JA, U.K.; FAX (0) 865-270309.

The 9th Biennial Conference on Balkan and South Slavic Linguistics, Literature, and Folklore will be held April 7-9, 1994, on the campus of Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. A preliminary program and details on transportation and accommodations will be issued in mid-December. A conference on "Gender and Material Culture from Prehistory to the Present" will be held at the University of Exeter, U.K., July 4-6, 1994. The conference will focus on approaches that can be used to study gender and material culture from the full range of periods since prehistoric times and will bring together archaeologists, historians, and museum curators, in a unique opportunity to compare approaches and ideas. Among the range of themes considered are: material culture production, accumulation and consumption, exchange and trade, transmission of possessions, transmission and control of skills knowledge, image and gender identity, food and diet, clothing and fashion, display and ornament, gender and spatial constructs, gender and technology. Contact: Dr. Linda Hurcombe and Dr. Moira Donald, Department of History and Archaeology, University of Exeter, Exeter EX4 4QH, U.K.; tel. (0392) 264-345 or (0392) 264-318.

The first international conference entitled "The Palaeolithic of Greece and Adjacent Areas" will be held in Ioannina, Greece, 7-11 September, 1994. The conference is being organized by the Greek Ministry of Culture (Department of Speleology and Palaeoanthropology, Department of Prehistoric and Classical Antiquities of Epirus) and the British School of Archaeology at Athens. The aims of the conference are to stimulate interest in the Palaeolithic archaeology of Greece, to improve communication between those working in Greece and adjacent areas (Italy and the Balkans) and to place the results of recent research in a wider context. The organizing committee would like to emphasize the following themes: Lower and Middle Palaeolithic Technology and Dating, Pleistocene Climates and Environment, Palaeoeconomy and Land Use, Upper Palaeolithic Technology, and Recent Field Projects. The official languages of the conference will be Greek and English. Abstracts must be received by March 31, 1994. Contact: Department of Palaeoanthropology-Speleology, c/o E. COMMUNICATIONS

The cover illustration for this volume, a swallow from the Frieze with Swallows, Xesti 3, is taken from Plate XLIIa of Christina A. Televantou's article "Theran Wall-Paintings. Artistic Tendencies and Painters" in Eikon. Aegean Bronze Age Iconography: Shaping a Methodology ($930113).

Announcements

The conversion of the Nestor bibliography to a fully searchable data base is now well underway with the help of the grant from INSTAP. The data base will be available on diskettes (3 1/2") as ASCII files structured for Macintosh and IBM-PC computers. Each diskette will include a ReadMeFirst file that explains necessary procedures. The data base may be used with a word processing program or, more effectively, with a data base program. Diskettes, each containing 3 or more volumes, will be announced as they are ready. We plan to have the full 35+ years of Nestor available by Spring '95.

The first diskette (vols. 17-19: 1989-1991) is now available at cost (of diskette, envelope and postage): currently U.S. @ $3.75/diskette; overseas: @ $6.00/diskette. Orders must specify whether they are for Macintosh or DOS version. Users are encouraged to make and share as many copies as they like. We would, however, like to have an idea of how useful you find the diskettes and will appreciate comments and suggestions.

We are working on various possibilities to make payments in U.S. dollars easier for overseas subscribers and hope to have a solution to announce in the January issue. Overseas subscribers may want to wait a month before placing orders or arrange to receive a copy from a friend in the U.S..

To those who purchased the first diskette at the AIA meetings in Washington: our sincere apologies for the messy state of volume 17. It has been cleaned up and you will receive a clean version on the next diskette (available soon).

Professor J.A. MacGillivray sent us the following note: "I am currently working on a biography of Sir Arthur Evans in Crete with a view to charting his re-creation of the Minoans. I would be very grateful to anyone who might have in their archives copies of any private correspondence from or concerning Evans. I have found his letters, particularly the later polemics, to be quite telling. I very much look forward to hearing from scholars, librarians, archivists, etc....who might be able to help. Thank you." Professor MacGillivray can be reached at the Department of Art History and Archaeology, Columbia University, New York, N.Y. 10027. tel# (212) 854-1945 or 854-4505; FAX# (212) 854-7329; e-mail jam2@columbia.edu

John Younger and Paul Rehak announce the creation of AegeanNet, an e-mail discussion group and news-service. The purpose of AegeanNet is to facilitate discussion, initiate and test new ideas, and explore possibilities in the world of the Aegean Bronze Age. Exploratory ideas, musings and queries, sample arguments, fully developed theses, and even entire drafts of papers are welcome. New bibliography, however will be left to Nestor. To subscribe send e-mail to: majordomo@acpub.duke.edu with the message "subscribe aegeanet".

The ARCHAEOLOGICAL DATA ARCHIVE PROJECT (ADAP). At the meeting of the Committee for Computer Applications and Electronic Data of the Archaeological Institute of America in December 1992, there was a lengthy discussion of the importance of providing access to scholarly information electronically over the Internet. Work toward that goal has been ongoing in the last year. The principal goal of ADAP is to provide a repository for excavation information, access to that information, and safe, secure, and long-term storage of the information. The project will operate under the aegis of the Center for the Study of Architecture, but it will be independently funded. The major benefit of this archive, at the outset, will be preserving and providing access to records that might otherwise be lost or rendered useless by changing computer standards. For more information on the project, contact: Harrison Eiteljorg, II, CSA, Box 60, Bryn Mawr, PA 19010, U.S.A. tel# (215) 526 7925; e-mail: neiteljo@brynmawr.edu

Past Conferences

The fifteenth annual conference of the Theoretical Archaeology Group (TAG) was held in Durham, England, 13-16 December 1993. Papers of interest to Nestor's readers include: Ideologies of Gender in the Past 1, organizer and chair, Eleanor Scott: Dimitra Kokkinidou and Marianna Nikolaidou, "Gender in Ideology and Neolithic Figurines: The Aegean Evidence"; John Chapman, "Of Bicycles and Fish: Engendering Tells, Farms and Barrows in Eastern Europe"; Louise Hitchcock, "Engendering Domination: A Structural and Contextual Analysis of Minoan Neopalatial Bronze Figurines"; Theoretical Perspectives in Greek Archaeology 1, organizers Kostas Kotsakis and Lina Mendoni, chair Mihalis Fotiadis: Kostas Kotsakis, "History and Prehistory: An Archaeological Heterotopia"; Maria Mouliou, "Treasures, Heroes, Miracles: The Greek Classical Past in Today's Museum Exhibitions"; Yannis Hamilakis and Eleana Yalouri, "The Subordinating Power of Marbles: Aspects of Archaeology and Modern Greek Society"; Mihalis Fotiadis, "Moderns and Farmers: How Regional Research in Greece Constructed Itself and its Object since the 1960s"; Nena Galanidou, "Theory and Research for the Palaeolithic in Greece"; Theoretical Perspectives in Greek Archaeology 2, organizers Kostas Kotsakis and Lina Mendoni, chair Kostas Kotsakis: Stelios Andreou, "The Aegean Bronze Age: Themes in Greek Archaeology"; Alexandra Alexandri, "Gender and Ethnicity in Aegean Bronze Age Studies"; Sofia Voutsaki, "Society and Culture in the Shaft Grave Era: Interpreting the Mortuary Practices"; Alexandros Mazarakis, "Methods of Survey of Kythnos (Cyclades)"; George Zachos and K. Papagiannopoulos, "West Achaea Intensive Survey"; Lina Mendoni, "Human Intervention on the Island of Keos (Cyclades): Problems in the Method of Fieldwork"; Lumpy Gravy and Silver Spoons: Towards a Contextual Archaeology of Metals, organizers Mark Pollard and Tim Taylor: Steven Shennan, "The Social Organization of Copper Production in the Central European Bronze Age"; Animal Bones, Human Societies, organizer and chair Peter Rowley-Conwy: Peter Rowley-Conwy, "Milking Goats but Hunting Boars: West Mediterranean Animal Husbandry in the Neolithic with Special Reference to Arene Candide."

The Institute of Ancient Culture, University of Uppsala, Sweden organized a symposium on October 7-10, 1993 entitled "Religion and Power in the Ancient Greek World." Papers of interest to Nestor's readers included: A. Bernard Knapp, "Power and Ideology on Prehistoric Cyprus"; Mary Blomberg, "Minos ennéoros: Archaeoastronomical Light on the Priestly Role of the King in Crete"; Catherine Morgan, "From Palace to Polis? Religious Developments on the Bronze Age/Iron Age Transition."

Future Lectures and Conferences

The New York Aegean Bronze Age Colloquium will meet at the Institute of Fine Arts, One East 78th Street, on Wednesday, January 19, 1994 at 7:45pm. Dr. Nanno Marinatos will speak on "Exported Art: Some Reflections on the Minoan Thalassocracy."

The European Simulation Symposium (ESS '94) will be held in Istanbul, Turkey, October 9-12, 1994. The symposium is organized and sponsored by the Society for Computer Simulation International, the European Simulation Council, the Ministry of Industry and Trade, Turkey, the Operational Research Society of Turkey, and others. Interested parties should send abstracts by March 1, 1994. The conference language is English. The symposium will be structured around five themes: Advances in Simulation Methodology and Practices, Artificial Intelligence in Simulation, Innovative Simulation Technologies, Industrial Simulation, and Computer and Telecommunication Systems. Correspondence address: Philippe Geril, The Society for Computer Simulation, European Simulation Office, University of Ghent, Coupure Links 653, B-9000, Ghent, Belgium. tel# 32.9.233.77.90; FAX# 32.9.223.49.41; e-mail: philippe.geril@ruy
