COMMUNICATIONS

From the Editors

In our continuing program of up-grading the publication of Nestor, we are changing the bibliographic program used to generate the bibliographic entries. This will enable more accurate listings in the print edition of the monthly issues of Nestor, and should facilitate faster conversion of the bibliographic files for uploading to the searchable on-line Nestor database. The editors of Nestor thank subscribers and readers for their patience during this conversion.

Electronic News and Notices

The Collaboratory for GIS and Mediterranean Archaeology (CGMA) has announced the release of the Mediterranean Archaeology GIS (MAGIS), an on-line, browser-based GIS inventory of completed and ongoing regional archaeological surveys in the greater Mediterranean area at <http://cgma.depauw.edu/MAGIS>. MAGIS contains survey metadata, including project name, researchers, methodologies, geographic coordinates, chronological coverage, special studies (e.g., lithics or epigraphy), bibliography, and the environmental characteristics of the study areas. The database can be searched spatially using an interactive map or by queries based on specific fields in the database. Comments and suggestions may be sent to cgma@depauw.edu. Researchers responsible for survey projects are asked to check, correct and expand the information about their project(s); metadata for projects not yet listed can be entered through the Data Entry page and will be stored in a holding database until vetted and released to the online database by CGMA personnel. An extensive on-line help file explains how to navigate and use the site, as well as precise definitions of the metadata categories.

A new mail-server list on the linguistics of ancient languages has been introduced entitled ancientpplinguisticslists.bham.ac.uk. The list aims to encourage discourse between those working on any linguistic aspect of ancient languages, primarily focused towards postgraduate researchers, although all are welcome to participate in list discussions. With recognition of the interdisciplinary nature of the topic, chronological boundaries have been set from the ancient Near East to the early medieval period (including Italic, Celtic and Old English). Linguistic fields can encompass all aspects of the subject, including theoretical linguistics, socio-, historical and contact linguistics. In order to subscribe to the list, please email SUBSCRIBE ancientpplinguistics to owner-ancientpplinguisticslists.bham.ac.uk. Alternatively, if you have any questions about the list, please contact owner-ancientpplinguisticslists.bham.ac.uk directly with any query.

A database of about 8000 14C-dates from Palaeolithic sites in Europe is available at <http://geo.kuleuven.be/geography/projects/14c-palaeolithic/index.htm>. This database includes sites within the Aegean as well as elsewhere in Europe. Forms are available at the website to submit new information or corrections.

Obituaries

The editors of Nestor are saddened to report the death of Dr. Christiane Sourvinou-Inwood, whose postgraduate researches began with studies in Linear B. Her later publications included studies in Minoan and Mycenaean iconography, in addition to a wide range of post-prehistoric topics; her work has also been influential for the rigor of her methodology.

The editors of Nestor are saddened to report the death of Professor Peter Ucko. His published dissertation, Anthropomorphic figurines of predynastic Egypt and neolithic Crete with comparative material from the prehistoric Near East and mainland Greece, remains a defining study of its subject, and his impact on the politics of archaeology has been widely influential in the archaeological world.

The editors of Nestor are saddened to report the death of William Charles Brice. He published extensively on Linear A and other ancient scripts, and served the study of Aegean prehistory as editor of the journal Kadmos.

Grants and Fellowships

On 1 January 2008 applications are due for the Margo Tytus Visiting Scholars Program in the fields of archaeology, history, or philology at the University of Cincinnati, Classics Department, tenable during the academic year from 1 October 2008 through 10 June 2009. Tytus Fellows will ordinarily be at least five years beyond receipt of the PhD, and will come to Cincinnati to pursue their own research. The minimum and maximum terms for Long Term Fellows are one academic quarter (two and a half months) to three academic quarters; Short Term Fellows will reside in Cincinnati for one to two months. Both categories of Tytus Fellows will receive housing, a transportation allowance, and office space; a monthly stipend of $1,000 is additionally provided for Long Term Fellows. Further information on the resources of the University of Cincinnati Burnam Classics Library and application forms are available at http://classics.uc.edu/resources/tytus_scholars_program.html, which provides a link to the on-line application form; paper applications will not be accepted. Questions can be directed to secretary@classics.uc.edu.

On 15 January 2008 applications are due for the Academic Programs of the American Research Center in Sofia (ARCS). ARCS offers three programs, with accompanying fellowships, in cooperation with various Bulgarian institutions of higher education: (1) a fall semester program for the period September-November; (2) a spring semester program for the period February-April; and (3) a 9-month program for the period September-May, open to graduate students only, in which participants will devote one term of their choice to independent research and travel, and participate in the ARCS academic program during the other term. ARCS will host the programs' lectures and seminars, provide logistical support, organize related trips, and facilitate opportunities for taking Bulgarian-language classes and access to local libraries, museums, and other educational institutions. In addition to graduate students, advanced undergraduates and faculty at educational institutions registered in North America regardless of nationality are eligible for the one-semester programs, and students are eligible to apply for fellowships. Further information and application forms are available from <http://www.einaudi.cornell.edu/arcs>.

On 1 February 2008 applications are due for the following fellowship to the American Research Institute in Turkey (ARIT) for the academic year 2008–2009:

ARIT - Princeton University Turkish Language Program at Bogaziçi University, including scholarship, travel, and stipend to support eight weeks of intensive, advanced Turkish language study in the summer of 2008. The application form will be available at <http://ccat.sas.upenn.edu/ARIT/FellowshipPrograms.htm>.

On 5 March 2008 applications are due for:

The Mellon Fellowships for Research in Turkey by East European Scholars: for post-doctoral applicants from Bulgaria, the Czech Republic, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Romania, or Slovakia conducting research in Turkey in any field of the social sciences or humanities; up to $11,500.

Calls for Papers

On 30 November 2007 proposals (not to exceed the equivalent of one page, typewritten double-spaced) are due for a conference entitled Cross-Cultural Approaches to Family and Household Structures in the Ancient World, to be held at New York University on 9-10

May 2008, organized by the Institute for the Study of the Ancient World (ISAW). In order to initiate conversations between ancient historians, archaeologists, and social anthropologists of all regions and periods of the ancient world, the conference welcomes papers from across disciplines, especially comparative approaches and new methods of analysis or interpretation of documentary evidence. Papers (limited to a reading time of twenty minutes, to be followed by twenty minutes of discussion) are invited that shed new light on the formation patterns and structural differences and similarities between family and household in ancient societies from the western Mediterranean to China. Proposals should be sent with contact information to either Anna Boozer, Sabine Huebner, or Jinyu Liu at: ISAW - Institute for the Study of the Ancient World, 15 East 84th Street, New York, NY 10028; e-mail: isaw.household.conference@nyu.edu. Topics of interest include but are not limited to:

Cross-disciplinary definitions of households (beyond Hajnal's and Laslett's models of nuclear, extended and joint families)

Physical configurations of houses/households

Household formations: Ideals and Reality (e.g. the influence of demographic regimes, social class and economic forces)

Oeconomia: household as enterprise (labor recruitment, migration and the gendered division of labor)

Inter- and intragenerational conflict and support within the household (hierarchy, authority and rules of succession)

Future Lectures and Conferences

The program of the New York Aegean Bronze Age Colloquium has been announced for Autumn 2007. Both lectures will be held at the Institute of Fine Arts, One East 78th Street at 6:30 pm. Please R.S.V.P. to 212-992-5803 or IFA.events@NYU.edu.
