In the notice of the Third International Colloquium on Aegean Prehistory in Sheffield, April 1973, one paper was accidentally omitted: Hans-Günter Buchholz, "Bemerkungen zur Vorbereitung einiger kretisch-mykenischer Elfenbeinarbeiten."

A minimum award of $8,000 in one or more fellowships will be granted for the academic year 1974-75 by the Archaeological Institute of America, trustee for the Olivia James Fellowship Fund. Application is open to American students, men or women, who desire to travel and study in Greece, the Aegean Islands, Sicily, Southern Italy, Asia Minor or Mesopotamia. The deed of trust lists the classics, sculpture, architecture, archaeology and history as the most suitable areas of study and specifies that the word "student" shall not be taken to restrict awards to persons registered in academic institutions.

One Harriet Pomerance Fellowship carrying a stipend of $1,500 will be awarded for the academic year 1974-75. It will enable a person to work on an individual project of a scholarly nature relating to Aegean Bronze Age archaeology. Preference will be given to candidates whose project requires travel to the Mediterranean. Applicants must be residents of the United States or Canada.

Applicants and information about both fellowships may be obtained from the Archaeological Institute of America, 260 West Broadway, New York, New York 10013. Applications must be postmarked on or before January 31, 1974; the awards will be announced before April 1, 1974.

The purposes of the Dr. M. Aylwin Cotton Foundation are to promote the advancement of education and learning by furthering the study of archaeology, architecture, history, language and art of the Mediterranean. This is to be interpreted as pertaining to cultures related to the Mediterranean but without geographical limitations. Two annual awards are made: (1) A grant of £1,500 will be awarded to a Fellow (ranging from Senior students to Dons on Sabbatical leave) engaged in research work. The fellowship may be renewed for a second year. Candidates should submit an outline of the proposed subject, together with the names of two referees of academic level (other than applications from Senior Dons) who support the project. (2) A grant of £500 is available towards the publication costs of work already finished or due for publication in the immediate future. Candidates must submit a brief account of the subject of the publication and where it is hoped it will be published. Information can be obtained from Dr. Aylwin Cotton, Piazza Giunone Regina, 2, Aventino, I-00153 Rome, Italy.

The American Research Institute in Turkey offers several fellowships for the academic year 1974-75. Scholars and advanced graduate students are eligible if they are engaged in research on Turkey in ancient, mediaeval and modern times, in all fields of the humanities and social sciences. Student applicants must have fulfilled the preliminary requirements for the doctorate. Applicants must be members in good standing of educational or research institutions and must submit a suitable research project or program of study. Application forms are available from 1155 East 58th Street, Chicago, Illinois 60637 and must be submitted before February 15, 1974. Applicants should expect notification around March 14, 1974.

The Trustees of the Ellaina Macnamara Memorial Scholarship offer an award of up to £1,200 per annum to a student who will undertake research and publication in a series of subjects in general related to Mediterranean archaeology between the twelfth and sixth centuries B.C. For a list of the eight specific topics and for further information, application should be made to: The Secretary, The Ellaina Macnamara Memorial Scholarship, 31-34 Gordon Square, London, W.C. 1. The deadline for application is the 1st of April 1974; selection is made in May.

Fellowships and Grants-in-Aid of the American Council of Learned Societies in 1972-1973 included the following. Robert A. Ackerman, "An edition of the scholarly correspondence of Sir James George Frazer." Richard S. Ellis, "Textile technology in the ancient Near East." Thomas W. Jacobsen, "Origins and development of the Neolithic in southern Greece." Gordon D. Young, "From Bronze into Iron: A history of the East Mediterranean in an Age of Transition." Per A. Alin, "Pottery analysis at the Idalion excavations." Katherine Coleman, "The Bronze Age frescoes from Ayia Irini."

Among the American Research Institute in Turkey's Fellowships awarded for 1973-1974 are the following: Gail M. Carlson, "Archaeological materials pertaining to the burial customs of Anatolia from the Neolithic through the Late Bronze Age." Prentiss de Jesus, "The evolution of metallurgy, techniques and artifacts of the Early Bronze Age." Alfred H. Krumholz, "The foreign relations of Cyprus from the Neolithic Period through the Early Bronze Age." Peter I. Kuniholm, "The dendrochronology of Gordion and the Anatolian Plateau."

The Ellaina Macnamara Memorial Scholarship for 1973-74 has been awarded to Miss Veronica Wilson for research on the evidence for Cypro-Levantine trade in Sardinia and the West Mediterranean before 1050 B.C. as well as the date and development of Phoenician trade and colonization in the West Mediterranean after this date.
