The 13th Visiting Scholar Conference met, as usual, at the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Illinois, on March 29-30, 1996. While most contributors were Americanists, the common focus on "Material Symbols: Culture and Economy in Prehistory" was broad enough to concern all prehistorians. Abstracts can be obtained from John Robb, organizer of the conference, at the Center for Archaeological Investigation, Mailcode 4527, Southern Illinois Univ., Carbondale, IL 62901-4527 (also from <http://www.siu.edu/~cai/vs.htm>). The papers will be published.

New Journals

Arkheologicheskije Vesti / Archaeological News (ISBN 5-7341-0010-2) is a relatively new periodical, published in St. Petersburg by the Institute of the History of Material Culture, Russian Academy of Sciences. Each annual volume (ca. 250 pages) offers several sections: "New Discoveries and Studies" consists of relatively short articles, while longer essays appear in the section "Actual Problems of Archaeology." Subjects pertain mainly to the archaeology of Asia and Eastern Europe, but theoretical and historical contributions are also included. All articles are in Russian and are accompanied by extensive summaries in English. In addition, each volume contains book reviews, communications on "The East-West Cooperation," and, occasionally, a special section on a timely topic. For subscriptions write to the Institute of the History of Material Culture, Dvortzovaja Nab. 18, St. Petersburg, 191065 Russia. Two volumes of this journal arrived at the hands of the Nestor editor thanks to the effort of Prof. V. M. Masson; some of their contents are included in the present issue.

Also new is Arkeologjia, published biannually by the Albanian Archaeological Society. In the issue donated to Nestor by Lorenc Bejko, President of the Society, all essays (2500-3000 words) and notes appear in both Albanian and English. Book and article reviews are also included, as are short book notes and a section with announcements of conferences and news. Methodological and historical topics supplement those focusing on Albania and the Balkans. Subscriptions are handled by the Albanian Archaeological Society, Institute of Archaeology, Tirana, Albania; fax: (042) 32010.
