From the editors

The 1996 NESTOR bibliography has been added to the searchable online database, which now covers publications from the years 1954-1996. If you haven't done so already, please check out our Web site: <http://ucaswww.mcm.uc.edu/classics/nesstor/nesstor.html> (also accessible from the newly refurbished University of Cincinnati Department of Classics home page). We would also welcome your additions or updates to the online edition of the International Directory of Aegean Prehistorians, which is available through our Web page.

We would like to take the opportunity to wish all NESTOR subscribers a happy holiday season and to thank everyone for their continued support of this venerable publication. Please take the time to contact us by mail or email (nesstor@ucbeh.san.uc.edu) with any suggestions concerning the printed or electronic versions of NESTOR – we welcome any ideas which might improve the quality and utility of the bibliography. (You might find it convenient to append a note to your subscription renewal, which is enclosed here.)

Announcements

NESTOR passes along the following from Cheryl Floyd, U.S. Academic Director, INSTAP-SCES:

In the summer of 1997 a new Study Center, the INSTAP Study Center for East Crete (INSTAP-SCEC), opened in Pacheia Ammos, Crete. This American research facility is dedicated to the advancement of Cretan studies from all periods of history, but places special emphasis on Aegean prehistory and archaeology.

For the 1997 summer season, the Center acted as the operating headquarters for six American and Greek-American Archaeological Projects, including the excavations and surveys at Gournia, Mochlos, Kavousi, Chrysokamino, Vrokastro and Halasmenos. The Center is also open for use by individual members, of any nationality, ranging from established scholars to university and college students.

INSTAP-SCEC is open year round and offers numerous facilities and services to its members. Facilities included a library, a photographic studio and dark room, a computer laboratory, a conservation laboratory, and a drafting room. Services offered included: email accounts for members, usage of filed equipment, and the services of professional photographers and conservators.
