Electronic News and Notices

The scope of Abzu, a guide to the study of the Ancient Near East on the Web at <http://www.etana.org/abzu/>, has recently been expanded to include Greece and the Aegean. New additions to Abzu can be found using the "View items recently added to ABZU" link on the home page, at which entries are listed for a month, or using the RSS feed from the same page, or at the blog constructed from the RSS feed at <http://www.bloglines.com/blog/AbzuNew>.

Digital copies of Kommos publications and archives, including the Kommos volumes published by Princeton University Press (except, at present, Vol. V) are available in downloadable PDF format at <https://tspace.library.utoronto.ca/handle/1807/3004>. This site currently contains a Bibliographical Guide to the Kommos site, sixteen articles and preliminary excavation reports, a conference volume and a monograph on a ceramic kiln. There is in addition an extensive catalogue of the Bronze Age pottery which accompanies ceramic studies in recently published Volume V (not yet scanned), which libraries are encouraged to print and shelve next to that volume, to be used as a supplement. It is anticipated that the excavation archives will be added, field records, including the trench notebooks and reports that now exist in paper form and on microfiche.

Obituaries

The editors of Nestor are saddened to report the death of Andrew Sherratt, Professor of Old World Prehistory at the University of Sheffield. Within the extensive scope of his analysis, Professor Sherratt's concept of the 'Secondary Products Revolution' and his application of world systems theory to Bronze Age Europe have been particularly influential in Aegean archaeology.

The editors of Nestor are saddened to report the death of Machteld Mellink, T. Leslie Clark Professor Emerita of Classical and Near Eastern Archaeology at Bryn Mawr College. In addition to participating in excavations beginning at Tarsus and to directing projects in the plain of Elmalı including the excavation of Karataş-Semayük, Professor Mellink contributed the newsletter “Archaeology in Anatolia” to the American Journal of Archaeology for nearly four decades, and received the AIA Gold Medal for Distinguished Archaeological achievement among other honors.
