

BGU 3.729 = Mitteis, Chrest. 167

Scan: Berliner Papyrusdatenbank

AD 144

Deposit (synchoresis)

Addressee

To Dionysios son of Deios, former strategos of the city (of Alexandria), (himself) neokoros of the great Sarapis, belonging to the tax-exempt individuals who are fed in the Mouseion, priest, archidikastes, and officer in charge of the chrematistai and the other courts,

Parties

|⁵ from Petronia Sarapias with her brother Petronius Marcellus as guardian and from Gaius Iulius Apolinarios, soldier of the first cohort named for Apameia of the centuria of Iulianus.

Agreement proper

Gaius Iulius Apolinarius agrees that he has received from |¹⁰ Petronia Sarapias as a deposit free from any risk: women's clothing evaluated at three hundred silver drachmas and golden jewelry in kind (weighing) altogether thirty-two tetartai (ca. 56 grams), which he agrees to keep at his own house and which he will return |¹⁵ to her whenever she demands them back without delay or else he will pay her back in accordance with the law on deposits, while the right of execution (of the claim) belongs to Petronia Sarapias from all that Gaius Iulius Apolinarios owns just as if by virtue of a legal decision.

Request for registration

We request (registration).

Date

In the eighth year of Imperator |²⁰ Caesar Titus Aelius Hadrianus Antoninus Augustus Pius, Phaophi 6(?).

Note

...

NB: Partial "repayment" of this loan (return of part of the dowry in cash): P.Lond. 2.178 from AD 145 (BL 8, p. 32).