Contract about the purchase of a slave (synchoresis)
May/June, 14 BC (BGU 4.1181a)

(a) Addressee
|[2] To Protarchos,

(b1) Party 1
|[2] from Apion alias Hestiaios, the son of Hestiaios, of the deme of Zeus,

(b2) Party 2
and from |[4] his father, Hestiaios, the son of Nikios, of the deme of Zeus.

(c) Agreement proper
Concerning the points at issue, |[5] they agree with one another on the following terms: Hestiaios, the father, |[6] agrees that, after purchasing |[7] a slave from his own money for up to 1,000 drachmas, he will necessarily effect the transfer of this (slave) to his son Apion by the 30th of Hathyr of the upcoming 17th year of Caesar (Augustus), |[8] and if by the aforementioned time Hestiaios, the father, |[9] does not purchase the slave and does not transfer (him) to Apion, |[10] Hestiaios agrees that he himself, |[11] after the 30th of Hathyr, |[12] will necessarily transfer within five days to his son Apion |[13] through the public notaries, as is proper, the slave woman Am… belonging to him |[14] and he will also hand over the registration containing the original sales of this (slave woman), |[15] on condition that Hestiaios pay his son for what the value of the slave woman falls short of the 1,000 silver drachmas |[16] and for the interest |[17-24] …
